

ANNOUNCEMENT

American Medical Student Association (AMSA) & AMSA Foundation

Executive Director

Sterling, VA

www.amsa.org

The American Medical Student Association (AMSA) and the AMSA Foundation are seeking a strategic leader with high energy who will share the passion for their vision for the future of healthcare. Founded in 1950, the oldest and largest independent association of physicians-in-training in the United States is a student-governed organization committed to representing the concerns of physicians-in-training.

AMSA's 35,000 members are medical students, premedical students, interns, residents and practicing physicians. AMSA's membership community works to improve the well being of physicians-in-training, protect the integrity of the medical profession, and advance the health of patients. AMSA and the Foundation are located in the Reston, VA suburb of Sterling. They share a staff of 15-20, including several outsourced functions. AMSA's annual revenues are approximately $2.3 million.

The successful candidate will be committed to working in partnership with student leadership to advance AMSA's mission and aspirations. S/he will share the passion to effect real change in the medical profession as a respected mentor/advisor to the student leadership and a known, trusted individual with partners. Other essential qualifications include strong financial and business skills, creative program and resource development, and a flexible management style to obtain outstanding performance from a motivated and cohesive staff of employees and students.

Requirements include:

- A Bachelor's Degree in relevant field; Master's Degree preferred.
- A minimum of seven-ten years progressively responsible experience in a complex association (healthcare/medical organization preferred), including staff, finance and program management, fundraising and strategic planning. Prior COO/CEO experience desirable.
- Experience with a student-led organization highly valued. Knowledge/experience of medical education also important.
- Strong public relations and communication skills with a wide spectrum of individuals, and ability to effectively represent AMSA also required.
- Outstanding financial acumen and significant business development experience or success building non-dues revenue.
